At 2786, we take great strides to ensure our ethical performance is just as good as the performance of our outdoor jackets.

We go out of our way to avoid using any harmful, banned or restricted chemicals that could be unsafe. Products are manufactured using certified fabrics to the OEKO-TEX STANDARD 100, so you can rest assured that our clothing has been tested by independent experts and contains nothing on the restricted substance list of Registration, Evaluation, Authorisation and Restriction of Chemicals (REACH) regulations or the ECHA SVHC Candidate List. 2786 outdoor jackets also comply with the EU general product safety directive regulations as no harmful substances, dyes or colourants are used during our manufacturing processes.

We also have a great reputation when it comes to social compliance. We adhere to the labour principles set out in the AMFORI BSCI Code of Conduct. We only select factories that achieve high standards and respect workers' rights, including offering decent working hours. Maintaining these standards ensures all our outdoor clothing has been produced in a fair, honest and legal way, without exploiting the people who make it.
